

BARUCH COLLEGE AT A GLANCE

Baruch College is a dynamic community of scholars and distinguished professionals who educate one of the most diverse student populations in the United States. The College dates back to the 1847 founding of the Free Academy, the first free public college in the nation, and has carried on a tradition of academic excellence, accessibility, and opportunity for students from every corner of New York City, the metropolitan region, and around the world.

THE AUSTIN W. MARXE SCHOOL OF PUBLIC AND INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS offers BSPA, MPA, Executive MPA, MIA, and MS in Education degrees while serving as a research engine for governmental and nonprofit entities at the local, state, and national levels.

THE GEORGE AND MILDRED WEISSMAN SCHOOL OF ARTS AND SCIENCES has more than 50 areas of study that blend rigorous theory with practical experience. Degrees include BA, BS, MA, MS, and PhD.

THE ZICKLIN SCHOOL OF BUSINESS has renowned faculty experts across the business spectrum and acclaimed AACSB-accredited programs leading to BBA, MBA, MS, Executive MBA and MS, and PhD degrees.

PRESIDENT MITCHEL B. WALLERSTEIN, PHD, joined Baruch College in August 2010. He also holds a professorial appointment in the Marxe School of Public and International Affairs, with areas of expertise in national security and foreign policy.

Under President Wallerstein's leadership, Baruch's private endowment has increased by 60 percent to more than $210 million. The College is currently fulfilling Strategic Plan: 2018-23, following the successful conclusion of the five-year plan for 2013-18. The new plan calls for continued curriculum innovation, enhanced student engagement, ongoing support for faculty research, and elevated cultural competency throughout the College.
